

Agneta Rising

World Nuclear Association (WNA), Sweden

Agneta Rising is Director General of the World Nuclear Association. She was Vice President of Environment at Sweden's Vattenfall AB, the fifth largest electricity utility in Europe, where she headed a pan-European department focused on energy, environment and sustainability. Over the past two decades, Ms Rising has been appointed by the Swedish government, the EU Commission and the IAEA to serve in several significant expert and advisory positions relevant to the safety and future development of nuclear power.

Among others, Ms Rising served for four years on the IAEA's International Nuclear Safety Group. She was awarded the Atoms for Peace Prize in 2013, WiN Spain Special Award in 2015 and Swedish Nuclear Society Honorary Prize in 2016.