

Ms. Kelley Cormier

Chief, Food Safety Division, Center for Nutrition, US Agency for International Development (United States of America)

Ms. Kelley Cormier is Chief of Food Safety Division, Center for Nutrition, USAID. Prior to this, she led an active research agenda that explored how the evolution of policies and institutions affect agricultural markets and the coping strategies of men and women. She holds a PhD in Development Studies with specializations in Economics and Law and a MS in Agricultural Economics.