

Mr Kanchan P. Adhikari, Professor of Medical Physics, Radiation Safety Officer, National Academy of Medical Sciences, Bir Hospital, Nepal

Mr Kanchan P. Adhikari is a medical physicist and radiation safety expert with over two decades of experience in clinical practice, education, and national policy development. He currently works at Bir Hospital, Nepal.

Mr Adhikari has played a pivotal role in shaping Nepal's radiation safety framework, contributing to the drafting of the Radiation Law, Radiation Regulations, and National Standards. He currently serves as an executive member of the Directive Committee under Nepal's Radioactive Substances (Utilization and Regulation) Act 2020.

He led efforts to launch Nepal's first postgraduate program in medical physics, significantly contributing to the development of a qualified workforce in the field.