

Mr Olimjon Azizov, Head of Management, Public and International Relations Department, Chemical, Biological, Radiological and Nuclear Safety and Security Agency, Tajikistan

Mr Olimjon Azizov is an expert in international relations and project management. He holds degrees in international relations, law, and nuclear physics from the Tajik National University, complemented by a Ph.D. in technical sciences.

Presently, he serves as one of the IAEA NLA from Tajikistan and coordinates all IAEA projects, including those related to human health. In addition, he holds the position of Head of Management, Public, and International Relations Department at the Chemical, Biological, Radiation, and Nuclear Safety and Security Agency, the designated NLO Office in Tajikistan.

Mr. Azizov has written the book "Types and Forms of Foreign Investments" and has contributed to more than 40 scientific publications concerning the production of energy-intensive substances from Tajikistan's mineral resources and the application of automated systems for radiation control systems in Tajikistan.