

Ms Susannah Stanway, Co-convenor London Global Cancer Week

Ms Susannah Stanway is an honorary consultant medical oncologist at the Royal Marsden Hospital in the UK and has an associate honorary faculty position at the Institute of Cancer Research (ICR). She is a past president of the Oncology Section of the Royal Society of Medicine and now co-convenes London Global Cancer Week.

She teaches several post-graduate courses in the UK and has received three awards from the Global Challenges Research Fund to collaboratively contribute to research projects in sub-Saharan Africa. She is on the editorial board of eCancer and part of the European Cancer Organisation Inequalities Network. She has historically been on the European Society of Medical Oncology Global Policy committee and is on the American Society of Clinical Oncology International Affairs Committee. She is a co-founder of the UK and Ireland Global Cancer Network and is part of the Canadian Global Oncology Network.