Draft resolution submitted by Portugal on behalf of the European Union and by Canada, Norway, the United States of America and Yemen

The General Conference,

- (a) Recalling its previous resolutions on measures to improve the security of nuclear materials and other radioactive materials, and on measures against illicit trafficking in nuclear materials and other radioactive materials,
- (b) Considering, in view of the ever growing number of tragic terrorist attacks worldwide, the need to continue to devote specific attention to the potential implications of terrorist acts for the security of nuclear materials and other radioactive materials in use, storage and transport involving associated facilities, and emphasizing the importance of physical protection and other measures against illicit trafficking and national control systems for ensuring protection against nuclear terrorism and other malicious acts, including the use of radioactive material in a radiological dispersion device,
- (c) Noting the four-year Nuclear Security Plan 2006-2009 adopted by the Board of Governors in September 2005,
- (d) Recognizing that threat-based risk assessment methodology is relevant for nuclear and other radioactive materials,
- (e) Mindful of the obligations of every Member State to keep its peaceful nuclear programmes safe and secure, asserting that responsibility for nuclear security within a State rests entirely with that State, and noting the important contribution of international cooperation in supporting the efforts of States to fulfil their responsibilities,

- (f) Noting United Nations Security Council resolution 1373, which calls upon all States to cooperate, particularly through bilateral and multilateral arrangements and agreements, to prevent and suppress terrorist attacks,
- (g) Noting also that actions of and initiatives by the international community to combat the proliferation of weapons of mass destruction and prevent access by non-State actors to weapons of mass destruction and related material, notably United Nations Security Council resolution 1540, constitute valuable contributions to the protection against nuclear and radiological terrorism.
- (h) Welcoming the adoption of United Nations Security Council Resolution 1673, which extend the mandate of the 1540 Committee in promoting the full implementation of the resolution and intending to continue working actively at national and international levels to achieve this important aim,
- (i) Noting in this context the various contributions of the G-8 since the adoption of the Global Partnership Against the Spread of Weapons and Materials of Mass Destruction at the Kananaskis summit in June 2002, including the Heiligendamm Statement on Counter-Terrorism of 8 June 2007 and the Report on G-8 Support to the United Nations' Counter-Terrorism Efforts, and noting also the implementation of the European Union strategy against proliferation of weapons of mass destruction adopted in December 2003 and other national and international contributions, such as the Global Initiative to Combat Nuclear Terrorism,
- (j) Recalling that international conferences have expressed their appreciation for international assistance and support for national programmes to secure and control unsecured nuclear and other radioactive materials, consistent with national laws and regulations,
- (k) Reaffirming the importance of the Convention on the Physical Protection of Nuclear Material, as the only multilateral legally binding instrument dealing with the physical protection of nuclear material.
- (l) Noting the role of the Agency in facilitating the development of relevant nuclear security documents that establish fundamentals, recommendations, principles and guidance to assist States in implementing the legally binding and non-binding international instruments,
- (m) Recalling, in this context, the important role that the recommendations contained in "The Physical Protection of Nuclear Material and Nuclear Facilities" (INFCIRC/225) have played in providing internationally accepted criteria for effective physical protection, and noting that INFCIRC/225, which was last revised in 1999, again needs revision to address the current threat environment,
- (n) Noting United Nations General Assembly resolution 60/78 of 8 December 2005, which inter alia calls upon all Member States to support international efforts to prevent terrorists from acquiring weapons of mass destruction and their means of delivery, and welcoming the entry into force of the International Convention for the Suppression of Acts of Nuclear Terrorism on 7 July 2007.
- (o) Recalling that other international agreements negotiated under the auspices of the Agency are relevant to an integrated approach to nuclear security and the physical protection of nuclear material and other radioactive materials against the threat of nuclear and radiological terrorism, based on prevention, those agreements including the Convention on Early Notification of a Nuclear Accident, the Convention on Assistance in the Case of a Nuclear Accident or

Radiological Emergency, the Convention on Nuclear Safety and the Joint Convention on the Safety of Spent Fuel Management and on the Safety of Radioactive Waste Management,

- (p) Reaffirming the importance of the Code of Conduct on the Safety and Security of Radioactive Sources as a valuable instrument for enhancement of the safety and security of radioactive sources, while recognizing that the Code is not a legally binding instrument,
- (q) Noting the central contribution of Agency safeguards agreements and additional protocols, and also of States' Systems of Accounting for and Control of Nuclear Materials, to preventing illicit trafficking and to deterring and detecting the diversion of nuclear materials,
- (r) Recognizing the work done by the Agency in cooperation with Member States to ensure the effectiveness and reliability of equipment used to detect illicit movement of nuclear and radiological materials and the need to continue its work in this regard, and
